

Emotional Intelligence is the Other Kind of Smart

Ask Yourself

1. Do you want to develop the skills responsible for 60% of job performance?
2. Do you need to increase sales or employee performance?
3. Can you improve internal communication or relationships?
4. Are your people prepared to handle growth, innovation, or change?
5. Are your company's values modeled through all levels of the organization?
6. Do you want your employees to feel that managers understand them and can guide them through any challenge?
7. Are you providing professional growth opportunities for your employees?

Emotional intelligence is an essential part of the whole person.

Defining EQ

Emotional intelligence (EQ) is the critical skill set that has a direct impact upon individual job performance, employee engagement, talent development, organizational performance, and overall climate in the workplace.

Who We Are

TalentSmartEQ™ is the world's leading provider of emotional intelligence services helping people develop their EQ. We offer the combination of instructor-led training, cutting-edge assessments, coaching, e-learning, keynotes, and self-study platforms. We also provide trainer certification to support large-scale implementation based on the strategies provided in our award-winning book, Emotional Intelligence 2.0. Drive culture change, develop your leaders, engage your employees, increase people's performance, and manage change with emotional intelligence skills.

TalentSmartEQ™ solutions help people develop emotional intelligence skills by raising their self-awareness, improving their ability to self-manage, increasing their interpersonal skills and strengthening their relationships. TalentSmartEQ™ meets each learner where they are to develop a non-judgmental path to improvement, providing accessible solutions that are rooted in sound research and brain science.

For more information about TalentSmartEQ's emotional intelligence training programs, visit www.talentsmarteq.com or call 888.818.SMART.